SPONSORSHIP INFORMATION

OUR STORY

Team 114, also known as Eaglestrike, is a student-led robotics team based at Los Altos High School in Los Altos, California. We compete in the FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC), an international program that challenges high school students to design, build, and program industrial-sized robots in a fast-paced, real-world engineering environment.

FIRST is more than robots. It is a platform that helps students grow into capable engineers, leaders, and collaborators. By designing and building a robot within a limited six to eight-week build season, our team learns to manage time, solve engineering problems, and communicate effectively under pressure.

At Eaglestrike, students take full ownership of the team's work. From mechanical design and fabrication to programming, electrical systems, strategy, and outreach, every part of the team is driven by students. Mentors support us by sharing industry experience and guiding us through technical challenges, but the learning and decision-making remain in the students' hands.
